

MEDIA RELEASE – 23RD July 2010

COLLGAR WIND FARM BOLSTERS DEVELOPMENT TEAM

Collgar Wind Farm Pty Ltd ("Collgar") is pleased to introduce its new WA-based executive team.

The newly appointed team will be based in Collgar's offices in Perth and Merredin, and will lead the development of the Company's wind power project near Merredin, which is set to be the largest wind farm in the WA.

Alistair Craib – Chief Executive Officer. Alistair was appointed to the CEO position at Collgar after being an integral part of the project acquisition team at UBS from mid 2009. Originally from Perth, with degrees in Commerce and Electrical Engineering, Alistair has spent several years with UBS in Sydney and London working in corporate and project finance advisory roles on energy and infrastructure related transactions. He has been involved in a number of wind farm investment opportunities in Europe. Alistair will be based in Perth but will travel frequently to Merredin.

Michael Gilmore - Chief Technical Officer. Mike has extensive experience in the development of wind farms around the world. He has worked for Roaring 40s Windfarm in Smithton Tasmania; Hydro Tasmania on their projects at Studland Bay and Musselroe Bay in Northern Tasmania; Cathedral Rocks Wind Farm in Port Lincoln, South Australia and on several other large infrastructure projects. He has more than 40 years experience in the construction industry and will be a great asset to the team. Mike has relocated to Merredin, after being based in Macau for the past few years.

Natalie Dawson - Chief Financial Officer. Natalie will oversee the financial management of Collgar and commercial management of the development project. Natalie has more than 15 years experience predominately in the Engineering and Construction sector both in Australia and overseas. Natalie has held senior management roles with both publicly listed and private companies, which include Macmahon Holdings Ltd, Rio Tinto and Clough Ltd. Natalie holds a Bachelor of Commerce in Accounting & Business Law and holds memberships with CPA and the Finance & Treasury Association.

Heidi Spitzer - Stakeholder and Office Manager. Based in Perth but travelling frequently to Merredin, Heidi will be the key contact for landowners, the Merredin Shire Council, community and environmental groups and media liaison. Heidi has experience in a variety of industries including media, FMCG and Finance.
